Four scholarships are given each year from funds provided by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosendale. Students are nominated by their high school principals. If more than one student is nominated from a school, the Hartnell scholarship committee makes the final recommendation to the board of trustees. Applicants must have a "B" average and three letters of recommendation from high school teachers. A Salinas or Palma high school graduate is chosen each year. The three remaining scholarships are given to applicants from three other high schools which send students to Hartnell. Gonzales, King City and Watsonville high school graduates will be eligible next year.

Club Participation Urged

Along with the organization of classes, schedules, and coffee breaks, Hartnell's "public-minded" students find themselves running elections and making plans for the many different clubs on campus.

Students, new and old, may grow tired of hearing chants such as "join the jazzers" and "rally with the rooters," but they must keep in mind the fact that participation in club activities is beneficial to both the individual and the school. Interest is what keeps our student body going strong. All work and no play makes Jack . . .

Dormitory Committee Formed As "New" Quarters Open

A dormitory committee is being formed at Hartnell in the hope that the housing set-up can be improved. Members of this committee will include one representative from each house, a representative from the coaching staff who will visit the houses daily, Mr. Stuart Dufour, vice-president, and Dr. J. F. Ching, college president.

Hartnell college owns several houses which encircle the campus. Until June 1 of this year the college had rented a large apartment house on Central avenue. Presently, two houses on Homestead avenue and one on Buena Vista are being used as dormitories. These houses are equipped for eight or ten men. Mattresses, curtains and refrigerators were purchased this summer to set the men up in house-keeping.

Dormitory rental is $10 a month paid in advance and payment of all breakage. So far this year, two windows have been replaced.

Carol Moore tells us that brother John (Hartnell, '57), has finally secured a position with the U.S. navy department. John hasn't seen a whole lot of the world yet, though. About all he's seen is a sinkful of dirty pots and pans. Don't worry, John, they've got to let you out someday.

Navy Gets Culture; Lee Gets Recruits

BY RAYMONDO

I had the good fortune to chat with Dr. L. L. Bjarnason, former Hartnell English teacher, now the professor of world literature at the naval postgraduate school in Monterey. The laudable Icelander explained that he is busily engaged in the sizeable task of building completely an appropriate library to begin classes around Oct. 20.

His is an absolutely new department in the navy's educational program. Our future admirals are thoroughly taught such things as port from starboard, bow from stern, and other more technical marine subjects, but up to now they have had little time for learning the cultural, historical and philosophical backgrounds of many of the civilizations of the world.

Dr. Bjarnason has the distinction of being chosen to literally pioneer this phase of postgraduate education in the navy. He had great praise for the fine cooperation that he, as a newcomer, had received from the various other departments of the school.

A Tear Was Shed

Naturally, at the mention of the good old days at Hartnell, a lump rose in his throat and a tear of pure sentiment was clearly visible in his eye. He asked that I inform all that he cherished the fondest memories of his dear old "Alma Mater."

A HEARTY ROUND OF HURRAHS for Mr. Robert Lee and the outstanding job he has done with the Hartnell band. Even with considerably less than the suggested number of "slidesticks," the band sounded great playing Meredith Wilson's "76 Trombones."

While our Panthers were hanging the apparently scurvy-ridden Pirates from Porterville by their thumbs to the yard-arm the gallant Mr. Lee was living up to his glorious namesake by gamely battling the best the United States army had to offer. Like the incomparable Confederate general, if he had had the pieces he would have blown them off the field! How come no "Dixie"?

At Friday's assembly the many cunningly phrased campaign speeches aroused much suspicion. Not one candidate denied ever receiving any gifts from Bernard Goldfine.

Few Course Changes Noted For Mathematics Department

The only new course to be added to the mathematics department at Hartnell in recent years is 14A and 14B, and it offers differential equations and advanced calculus to lower division engineering students. It is an advanced mathematics course, and, according to Mr. Daniel Coulter, it follows a trend established by university mathematics departments.

Mr. Roger Gammons states that any of the mathematics transfer courses offered at Hartnell are parallel to those given in a university.

The curriculum is divided into three classes: general mathematics and business mathematics, which are terminal at Hartnell; alegbra and geometry, which are high school courses offered so that students can make up deficiencies; and the transfer courses which include advanced mathematics courses.

Instructor In Russian History Fought Communists in 1917-1919 By Dave Wynne

Dr. Michael S. Samsonow, a new instructor on the Hartnell campus this year, will be teaching classes in political science, sociology and the history of Russia. He was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, but has taught in the United States at Loyola university in Los Angeles and the army language school in Monterey.

Dr. Samsonow was a member of the school of law at the University of Rostov-on-the-Don in Russia for two years. He spent two other years at the Graduate Institute of High International Studies of Geneva, Switzerland, where he received a diploma of high international studies. He was graduated with a PhD in economics after he attended Royal Hungarian Palatin Joseph university of Budapest for four years.

Previous teaching positions have been filled by Dr. Samsonow at the Royal Hungarian Palatin Joseph university of Budapest, army language school at Monterey, and Loyola University of Los Angeles. He served as secretary of the Russian diplomatic mission in Hungary and as delegate plenipotentiary of the Imperial Russian Red Cross. He was also a delegate of the Council of Former Ambassadors of Russia.

Dr. Samsonow was 20 publications to his credit in the fields of international law, international relations and political science. From 1917 to 1919 he served in the Russian cavalry with the anti-communist Russian army of General Deniken.

Coulter Trained In Reserve Fleet

Mr. Dan Coulter, instructor in trigonometry, calculus, and geometry, spent 14 days this summer in active duty for training while stationed at the U.S. naval radio station at Skaggs' Island, located 12 miles out of Sonoma, Calif.

During his training, Mr. Coulter studied recent developments in naval communications, techniques and materiel. The Hartnell teacher is a lieutenant in the naval reserve.

Mr. Coulter's past naval duty in reserve training has included shipboard duty, work at the naval ornance testing station in Pasadena and at the naval radio station at Imperial Beach, Calif. He attends weekly meetings of a U.S. navy security group in San Jose.

Works on Degree

The last two summers, Miss Catharine Carpenter, assistant librarian at Hartnell since 1956, attended the University of Southern California while completing work for a masters degree in library science. She has a BS from the University of Colorado and a BLS from the University of California.

International Clubs Plan Dinner Meet-To Hear Professor

The Hartnell International club is planning a dinner meeting in conjunction with the world affairs council Sept. 30 in the student union cafeteria.

The club, under the advisership of Dr. C. M. Wilson, political science instructor, and Mrs. Mabel York, English instructor, will elect officers at the next meeting. Darold Coelho, last year's president, is temporary chairman.

Dr. Paul Seabury, assistant professor of political science at the University of California, will be the principal speaker at the dinner. He will speak on the "Re-evaluation of American Foreign Policy."

A committee composed of Darold Coelho, Pete Oliverez and Stewart Liem, was formed to distribute invitations and to help in setting up the decorations.

Foreign students from Hart-nell and Salinas high school will be invited to the dinner meeting. The club is open to both American and foreign stu-

The Hartnell parking lot is overloaded this fall and the traffic committee will appreciate cautious, courte-ous student driving, Dr. Olsen added.

Music Staff Planning Big Year, Band Ready

The Hartnell music department has already begun making plans for a full year of activities. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Lee the choir, band and madrigal singers will participate in many events.

Choir members number approximately 55 this year and among other activities will be their presentation of the annual Christmas concert. Mr. Lee is directing the choir and madrigal singers while Mr. Vahe Aslanian is on sabbatical leave.

Hartnell's band will be playing at all home football games and will plan half-time programs for some of the games. The group, approximately 35 members this year, will journey to the Compton and Diablo Valley football games.

The madrigal singers still need soprano voices. Included in the group so far are Elsabeth Alioto, Charles Allen, Elizabeth Brazil, Edmund Clark, Diane Hayes, Eleanor Hill, Maynard Potter, William Stretch, Walter Weydell, Ellis Wheeler and Kingston Witchez.

We see the Watsonville district is thinking of joining Hartnell. If so, this would probably bolster the Hartnell football team in the future. Perhaps players like Grimm Mason and Marv Marinovich wouldn't have strayed to other colleges if Watsonville had been a part of the Hartnell district.

Looking to the future, Marv has a younger brother, Gary, still playing at Watsonville. It probably wouldn't do Hartnell any harm if Gary happened to offer his services to Coach Ken Oklahoma Coach at Hartnell How many of you remember Billy Vessals? He was the all-American back at Oklahoma who won the Heisman award in 1952. It seems that one of the new teachers at Hartnell, Dr. W. D. Head, was his coach at Oklahoma. Don't misunderstand. I don't mean he was his football coach - he coached him in English.

Dr. Head, whose father was once head coach at the University of Tennessee, coached not only Vessals, but several others on the Sooner team. He is also a friend of Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson. Maybe some of the Panthers who are thinking of going on to a four-year col-lege in the future could have him put in a good word for them. I wouldn't try it, however, unless you're well acacquainted with the English language. It seems that Coach Wilkinson rates English ability second only to football ability.

A Prediction: Last week we wrote about the battle going on in the Panther backfield for the halfback positions. Now, we say watch for a battle at the quarterback position.

Wayne Handley has exhibited the smooth ball handling, hard running and good arm that made him an all-conference back last year, but he may have a tough time holding down Bill Riddle, who showed in the Porterville game that he too could lead a team to paydirt. It was especially interesting since he was working with the second string, and Handley was leading the first string.

Cabanyog Leads Ground Gainers

Salinas halfback, Bob Cabanyog, led the Hartnell rushing attack, and Wayne Handley, Soledad quarterback, completed five out of six passes when the Panthers crushed Porterville with a 40-12 score in the season's opener.

Cabanyog gained 64 yards in 10 carries for an average 6.4. He was followed by Dick Juarez with 36 yards gained in seven carries and Jim Stireman, who totaled 38 yards in seven carries, according to Bob Stolich, student statistician.

Handley's five completed passes definitely put him at the top of the passing list with a 123-yard total. Handley was followed by Bill Riddle who completed one pass for 11 yards and Jerry Kanada with one out of three passes made good for 10 yards.

Did He Make It?

The photo was taken an instant before the referee's arms went up to signal another score for Hartnell.

Panthers Sink Porterville, 40-12; Rohrke Scores on Interception

For the first time in three years the Hartnell Panthers beat the Porterville Pirates in their opening game. Behind the quarterbacking of Wayne Handley and the running of Bob Cabanyog, Jim Stireman and Chris Machado the Panthers stopped the Pirates by a score of 40-12.

Guard Don Rohrke intercepted a pass early in the first quarter and ran it back 44 yards for the first Panther touchdown.

A few minutes later Mike Porter recovered a fumble and set up a second touchdown scored by Handley on an option play. Cabanyog kicked the conversion and the score was 13-0.

Handley Scores Again

Hartnell scored again late in the second quarter when Handley once more ran for paydirt, time on a quarterback sneak. Cabanyog split the uprights for the extra point.

Seconds later Gene White intercepted another Pirate pass and ran it all the way for a touchdown. This time it was Carl Bergeron's turn to make the extra point, and the score was 27-0 at half-time.

Early in the third quarter Hartnell tallied again, this time when Bob Cabanyog carried the pigskin over for the score. Bergeron's kick was good for the conversion.

Panther Footballers Face Poly Frosh Tomorrow

The Hartnell Panthers will be looking for win number two tomorrow night as they go against the Cal Poly Frosh at the Salinas high school field. The win Saturday gave the Panthers their first opening game win since 1954, when most of the Junior Rose bowl team had returned. If they win tomorrow night it will be the first time since 1954 that they have won their first two games.

Coach Ken Blue said he will probably start the same lineup as last week, with the possible exception of Gary Harris who may come off the injured list this week.

The lineup will probably include: Wayne Handley at quarterback, Bob Cabanyog and Dick Juarez at the halfbacks, Jim Stireman at the fullback slot, Blanton and Lon Sloan at ends, Mike Porter and Bob Harrison at tackles, Don Rohrke or Harris and Anderson at the guards, and Elliott at the center position.

The Cal Poly Frosh are coached by Tom Lee and are expected to use a pro-type "T." They will be led at quarterback by Ted Tollner, 6-2 and 185 pounds. He played for a Palo Alto high school last year and is expected to be a very good passer.

Their halfbacks will be Bob Johnson of Howell, Mich., and Rodger Kelley, Bakersfield. Full-back will be Jim Criner of InAt the ends will be Jerry Fletcher from James Lick in San Jose and John Ramsey, Huntington Park. At the tackles are Mike Arlotto, a 230 pounder from Los Angeles, and Keats Marshall, a 220 pounder from De Anza. Lynn Lobaugh, 195 pounds, Huntington Park, and Russ Zierman, 200 pounder from Santa Maria, will furnish the power at the guard spots. The center is Terry Farris, a high school star from Oxnard.

This will be Cal Poly's first game of the season. They've been working out with the Cal Poly varsity for the past ten days, and have approximately 35 men on the squad.
